It sells books for smaller publishers, too!

"We'd find it quite difficult to conduct our day-to-day operations without PTLA. We use it for so many things—checking prices, discounts, availabilities, what else a publisher sells besides books. Customers frequently ask us to 'special order' a book from a particular publisher. We find all we need to know about it in PTLA. It's especially useful for learning about hundreds of smaller presses—PTLA is just about the only place we can find out what they're offering. I'd really like to see more of them included. PTLA does the job for us. Frankly, I'd be lost without it."

110 years of continuous publication and still going strong!

That's The Publishers' Trade List Annual, a landmark book industry tool whose famous "Yellow Pages" help small publishers sell their books and related products to a vast, receptive market. PTLA is issued by the R.R. Bowker Company, publisher of such widely known industry tools as Books in Print, Publishers Weekly, Literary Market Place and American Book Trade Directory.

What is THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL?

It's a 6-volume hardbound compilation of the catalogs and lists of books currently available from some 1,800 U.S. and Canadian publishers and distributors. In addition, PTLA includes information on related products—books, databases, microforms, posters, prints, games, puzzles, art reproductions, maps, globes, calendars, greeting cards.

Who uses PTLA?

This definitive work is relied upon as a primary purchasing and reference tool by over 7,000 leading bookstores, libraries (plus their thousands of customers and readers), wholesalers, educational institutions, research centers and government agencies.

How can PTLA help you?

PTLA gives you year-long exposure to 7,000 leading buyers.

Unlike other forms of promotion, PTLA is always at their fingertips, to be referred to over and over again when purchasing decisions are made. Plus—store and library patrons constantly use it to answer questions, and find books in specialized fields, check availabilities, verify prices, and more. They'll all be looking for your list. Make sure it's there!

Your listing appears in the widely used "Yellow Pages", which is located right at the front of Volume 1. (This section is especially helpful to those publishers who do not choose to insert a full 4-page-or-more catalog.) You can provide data about your company that buyers probably can't find elsewhere, such as full descriptions of your books and products, ordering and discount policies, prices, and more.

Now, more than ever, book buyers, their customers, their patrons, are interested in the publications of small presses. PTLA is where they're most likely to look first!

You get additional exposure in three valuable indexes: 1. The Publishers' Address Index—an interfiled, alphabetical list of all publishers, large and small, with address, ISBN prefix, and page on which your listing appears. 2. The Subject Index to Publishers, helping users locate publishers in special subject areas. Here's where they'll find your name under any of 68 classifications which you have selected to identify your publishing program. 3. The Index to Publishers' Series, enabling users to find the publisher of a particular series' name they're looking for. They'll then turn to the complete PTLA listing to find all the titles in that series, plus availabilities and prices.

Can you afford to be in PTLA?

You can't afford not to! When you consider the 365-day-a-year exposure you get to your 7,000 top buyers, plus the thousands of their customers and patrons . . . the actual cost comes down to just pennies a day or less. The answer is crystal clear!

Here's all it costs to be included in the 1981 edition:

Full page	6 $\frac{3}{4}$ " x 9"	\$325.00
$\frac{1}{2}$ -page	3-5/16" x 9"	205.00
$\frac{1}{4}$ -page	3-5/16" x 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ "	105.00
$\frac{1}{8}$ -page	3-5/16" x 2"	75.00
Single title		19.50

If you list four or more titles, a $\frac{1}{8}$ -page or larger unit would be most economical. One, two or three titles, and single title listings (with no more than one or two brief sentences of annotation) are obviously your best buy.

Look at the sample page to the left—see which unit is best suited to your list. Remember—your complete list of titles and products should be included for best sales results. (An added plus: all information about the books you submit for inclusion in PTLA will be referred to the Books in Print Department.)

What do you have to do to be part of the 1981 PTLA?

1. Fill out and mail the postage-free Reservation Form as soon as possible, but no later than April 15, 1981. Be sure you indicate all appropriate subject classifications that identify your publishing program, and list the names of all your series for which complete information is included in your PTLA insertion. This guarantees your inclusion in these two valuable indexes.

2. Submit final, double-spaced typewritten copy, or final camera-ready copy, as soon as possible, but no later than April 15, 1981. Here are a few valuable tips. Most PTLA users prefer to arrange their entries alphabetically by author. If your listing is extensive, a cross-index by title or subject is helpful. Entries should include, where applicable: complete name and mailing address, shipping and receiving locations, discount structure, returns policy, etc. For all titles: author's full name, title, subtitle (if any), series title (if any), illustrations or other special content, year of publication or latest revision, binding, grade or age level of children's books and e-l-h-i textbooks, ISBN, price, discount price (if any), brief annotation (very often, PTLA is the only place a potential customer can easily locate a description of a particular book).

Bowker will specify type (minimum type size, 8 pt. Spartan Medium) and submit proofs for your final approval if your copy reaches us before April 15. (Publishers submitting single title listings do not receive proofs.) We reserve the right to print listings without submitting proofs, or to reject copy, after this date. Author's alterations, other than Bowker's or printer's errors, after copy is set, will be billed additional.

If you haven't assigned ISBNs (International Standard Book Numbers) to your books, it is to your advantage to do so. Not only do they make book ordering and fulfillment easier and more accurate, they also help to increase sales. If you have any questions about the ISBN system, please call the ISBN Agency at R.R. Bowker Company, (212) 764-3390.

Do you prefer to include a catalog? If you have four or more pages, you can insert it in the Catalog section of PTLA for a very nominal cost. And we can economically print it—enough copies for your PTLA insertion, plus any overrun you need for your own use. For PTLA information call or write:
